INSANITY BILL IS WELL ON THE WAY

Senate Passes Measure On Its Second Reading

NO APPEAL FROM DECISION OF SANITY COMMISSION

Upper Chamber Clears Clerk's Desk of Big Pile of Accumulated Business—Sewer Tax Bill Passes Through

SENATE.

Fifty-Third Day—Morning Session. The suggested provision, granting the right of appeal to the Circuit Court from decisions of the Insanity Commission, was not incorporated in the insanity bill this morning. The suggestion was made by the Health Committee, but the idea did not meet with favor and was unanimously rejected by the Senate.

The question of appeal has been one of the bones of contention since the first agitation of a new insanity law. A certain element in the upper house has insisted that, to make the Insanity Commission the final court of appeal, would be placing too much authority in the hands of a few men. On the other hand it has been argued that, to turn the matter of finally deciding on a man's sanity over to a jury of laymen, none of the members of which might have the slightest idea of what insanity might be, would be to invite a chaotic condition that would work havoc with the law and finally result in its total dismemberment.

Now In Doubt.

With the appeal provision left out, lawyers in the Senate will not say that, under Territorial law, an appeal cannot be taken, but Senator Smith pretty well voiced the general sentiments of the members of the Senate when he stated that the proposed appeal provision would be an invitation to every person, found insane by the commission, to take his case into the courts. As on previous occasions when the question of an insanity bill has faced the Senate, Senator Makekai was greatly worried lest he be charged with insanity by some of his enemies, and forced to go before the Board. When Senator Smith refused to concur in some of his remarks, he excitedly shouted that there was nothing to prevent the venerable President of the Senate from being haled before the Insanity Commission by some of his enemies.

"Physical" Doctors. Another provision that bothered Makekai was that which required that at least two of the members of the pro-

INSPECTOR KING GOES TO SEATTLE

Will Look After Island School Work Exhibit

LEFT TODAY FOR HAWAII TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS

Will Act as Conductor to Childs and Have General Charge of the Display Now Being Made Up

School Inspector Chas. E. King has been appointed to look after the arrangement and to have general supervision of the Hawaiian school exhibits at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, to be held in Seattle in June. He will work in conjunction with Lloyd Childs, who has charge of all the Hawaiian exhibits. Childs when seen this afternoon stated that King was selected in order to help him along in making arrangements of the Hawaiian exhibit. Childs will be busily engaged in looking over Hawaiian affairs in general at the exhibition, and on that account the local Board, consisting of Governor Frear, Superintendent of Public Instruction Habbitt, J. F. Morgan, William Williamson, and others, decided to send Mr. King to the exposition. His expenses will be borne by the local Board.

Mr. King left in the Mauna Kea today for Hawaii, where he will make necessary arrangements.

NOTHING BUT WORK IN LOWER HOUSE

Eighteen Bills and One Joint Resolution On Order Of Day

SPEAKER HOLSTEIN CALLED HOME BY SON'S ILLNESS

Vice Speaker Rice Will Hold Down the Lid Until His Chief Returns Next Saturday

HOUSE.

Fifty-Third Day—Morning Session. It was nothing but work in the House this morning. There was too much to do for the members to allow themselves the luxury of debate, there being eighteen bills and one joint resolution on the order of the day for third reading,—by far the biggest grist of the session.

It was simply a matter of the Clerk reading a bill and the House voting on it. Talk was for the most part eliminated, though Kaniho did enter a voluble protest over the veterinary bills and succeeded in getting one of them killed. But the order of the day was not half finished when the House took an early recess so the members could go down to the wharf and see the Mauna Kea and the Speaker off. Vice Speaker Rice will hold down the lid for the rest of the week, up to Saturday, Speaker Holstein having been called home by the serious illness of his son.

Sheldon's Last Bill.

Sheldon introduced what he said was his last but not his least bill. The measure relates to the annual exhibit of corporations, and provides that all corporations not eleemosynary, religious, literary or educational, shall annually present a full and accurate exhibit of the estate of its affairs to the Treasurer, as of December 31 of each year.

Third Readings.

The following bills passed their third reading: House Bill 225, declaring tax liens to be prior liens upon property for five years.

House Bill 226, relating to failure to return property for taxation. The bill provides that if any person shall fail or refuse to make return of his property for assessment, the Assessor may assess the property according to his best information as to its value, and there shall be no appeal from his assessment. This bill was introduced. Rice stated, to make the present tax law constitutional.

House Bill 220, Long, giving warehousemen a lien for storage and authorizing its enforcement by sale. According to the provisions of this bill, if one stores his trunk with a baggage-
